JUNGIAN PSYCHOLOGY – A DEEPER LOOK

An Online Course Facilitated By

Rose F. Holt, M.A., and Boris L. Matthews, Ph.D.

January 26th, 2009 through March 20th, 2009

This course will cover fundamental topics of Jungian Psychology—archetypes and myths, dreams and dream interpretation, persona, shadow, complex, typology, anima/animus, Self, and individuation. It is designed for people who have some knowledge of the subject but would like a more structured and comprehensive overview.

On-line Discussion Forum:

A portion of the website for this course will be devoted to a forum discussion on which participants may post reflections, questions, and responses to others' posts.

Seminar Web Events:

A part of the course will be four (4) web-hosted seminars for real-time interaction between presenters and participants. Seminar participants will need a high-speed internet connection (DSL or cable), a webcam (to participate in the on-line discussions by video), and long distance phone service (for the audio portion of the on-line discussions).
